

Trainee Professional Development Award Frequently Asked Questions

Award Information

Application

Eligibility

Award Stipend and Tax Information

Annual Meeting

Web-Based Learning Opportunities

Award Information

- What is the submission open and close timeline?

SfN will accept Trainee Professional Development Award application June 1, 2020 – June 29, 2020.

What do Trainee Professional Development Award recipients receive?

Trainee Professional Development Award recipients receive complimentary registration for the SfN annual meeting. Additionally, recipients will receive a monetary stipend of $1,000 or $2,500. Award stipend amounts are based on recipient location; recipients based in North America receive $1,000, and recipients based internationally receive $2,500.

- When will recipients be notified that they have received a Trainee Professional Development Award?

Award recipients will be notified of receipt of the award in September.

- How are recipients selected?

Awards are distributed based on the merit of the trainee's application.

Return to Top

Application

- Do applicants need to be nominated by someone else for consideration?

No, applicants may nominate themselves for a Trainee Professional Development Award.

- How do applicants apply?

Applications are submitted via the online application portal, which can be accessed through SfN.org.

- What are the required application components?

To apply, applicants must submit:

- Draft of the applicant's abstract submission for the upcoming SfN annual meeting.
 - While TPDA applications will be accepted in advance of abstract submission, receipt of the award is contingent on submission of an accepted abstract for Neuroscience 2020.

- Applicant's CV, including education, honors/awards, and publications (abstracts and manuscripts).
- Short essay (no more than 500 words) on how attendance at the annual meeting will impact your career goals (or, for undergraduates, why you chose the path of neuroscience). Additionally, the essay should speak to a personal experience that has had a broader impact on your career in science.

Examples of topics include:

- A woman scientist who has inspired the applicant
- The importance of local advocacy and outreach efforts in neuroscience
- The importance of conducting rigorous science
- One-page letter of recommendation from the applicant's mentor, advisor, chapter representative or program/department chair

Reference letters over one page will void the application

- Will applications be accepted if components are missing?

No, applications that are missing one or more of the application components will not be considered.

- Can applicants submit information in addition to or instead of the application components requested?

No, applications with materials not requested will not be reviewed.

Return to Top

Eligibility

- What are the eligibility requirements needed to apply for a Trainee Professional Development Award?

In order to be considered for a Trainee Professional Development Award, applicants must be:

- The presenting author of an abstract to be presented at the annual meeting
 - Only one application per abstract is permitted. Multiple applications with the same abstract will be ineligible. Please coordinate with other authors on your abstract submission to avoid ineligibility. For more information, please contact tpda@sfn.org.
 - While TPDA applications will be accepted in advance of abstract submission, receipt of the award is contingent on submission of an accepted abstract for Neuroscience 2020.
- A current member of SfN
- Currently enrolled as an undergraduate, graduate, or completing postdoctoral fellowship, or have completed one of these programs in the same calendar year the award is given (2020).

- Are individuals eligible for a Trainee Professional Development Award if they do not submit an abstract?

No, to be considered eligible for a Trainee Professional Development Award, applicants must submit an abstract that is accepted for Neuroscience 2020.

- Do applicants need to be a current SfN member to be considered eligible?
Yes, only current SfN members are eligible for Trainee Professional Development Awards.
- Can individuals apply for a Trainee Professional Development Award if they completed or will have completed their current program before recipients are selected?
Yes, applicants are considered eligible if they are currently enrolled in or completed an undergraduate or graduate program, or a postdoctoral fellowship in the same calendar year the award is given (2020).
- Can individuals apply for a Trainee Professional Development Award if they received another SfN travel award?
No, applicants are ineligible for a Trainee Professional Development Award if they received another SfN travel award in the same or previous year.

Return to Top

Award Stipend and Tax Information

- When do award recipients receive their award stipend?
Award recipients will receive their award stipend during the SfN annual meeting.
- Where can award recipients pick up their award stipend?
Award recipients can pick up their award stipend from the SfN Business Office.
- Are award recipients required to submit documentation in order to receive the award?
United States citizens and permanent residents of the United States are required to submit a W-9 tax form. Foreign nationals are required to submit a W-8 tax form.

Return to Top

Annual Meeting

- Are recipients required to attend specific events during the annual meeting?
Yes, TPDA recipients are required to attend:
 - The Trainee Professional Development Award poster session on Saturday evening.
 - At least two professional development workshops.
- Will recipients be asked to complete anything following the annual meeting?
Yes, TPDA recipients will be asked to complete a program evaluation following the annual meeting; this will be provided to recipients through electronic means.
- Will recipients be reimbursed for SfN annual meeting registration if they register in advance of award notification?
Yes, all Trainee Professional Development Award recipients receive complimentary registration. If you register for SfN's annual meeting before receiving the award, staff will process your reimbursement. Reimbursements are issued back to the original form of payment.
- How do recipients access their complimentary registration?

Award recipients will receive a unique registration link to their complimentary registration following notification of receipt of the award.

Return to Top

Web-based Learning Opportunities

- What type of web-based learning will award recipients have access to?

Award recipients will have access to specialized learning opportunities on Neuronline, SfN's home for learning and discussion.

- How often will recipients receive TPDA-related emails throughout the year following their award?

Award recipients will receive TPDA-related emails on a quarterly basis.

Return to Top